

TIME TO END THE

STUDENT LOAN TAX

Get Involved To Permanently End The Student Loan Tax

It's a great time to get involved with the Independent Tertiary Education Council Australia (ITECA) in the advocacy campaign to permanently end the Student Loan Tax. The lobbying activity is led by the ITECA policy team in Canberra who are actively briefing Ministers, their advisors and departmental staff; however, it would be great to have you involved.

The key to securing reform will be the collaborative efforts of a growing community of united, informed and influential providers across the higher education, vocational education, training and skills sectors. Here is what you can do to get involved.

Contact senators and your local member of parliament

Raise the Student Loan Tax with your local member of parliament and the senators in the state / territory where your business is based. ITECA can provide you with the speaking points to assist you with these meetings.

Encourage your students to contact their local member of parliament

The campaign to permanently end the Student Loan Tax will be strengthened if every student that pays the tax writes to their local parliamentarian.

Be sure that your organisation is an ITECA member

The campaign to permanently end the Student Loan Tax is being driven by the policy advocacy team in Canberra. They are currently meeting with Ministers, plus parliamentarians from all political parties, and the resources to do this are drawn from membership fees.

Thanks to the great support of members and ITECA's policy team in Canberra, there is effective political representation for independent providers in the higher education, vocational education, training and skills sectors. The key to success is getting involved – and that's what ITECA membership does, empowering you to drive change.

#ItecaGetInvolved

There are some 120 independent higher education providers and around 3,600 independent Registered Training Organisations.